NOTICE OF PRIVACY PRACTICES

Effective April 2003
Revised December 2017

This Notice describes how medical information about you may be used and disclosed and how you can get access to this information.
Please review it carefully.

We respect the privacy and confidentiality of your personal health information.

This Notice describes our legal duty and privacy practices to protect your health information and any rights you may have regarding how information about you is used and disclosed.

PART 1 – USES AND DISCLOSURES OF HEALTH INFORMATION WITHOUT INDIVIDUAL AUTHORIZATION

The following categories describe ways Gracedale Nursing Home uses and discloses health information. The categories below do not include every use or disclosure.

- a. Treatment: We may use your health information to provide you with medical care. Doctors, nurses, therapists and other personnel need your information to determine the best way to treat your medical condition. For example, the doctor treating you for a broken hip may need to know if you have diabetes, because diabetes may slow the healing process. The doctor may need to tell the dietitian if you have diabetes so the dietitian can help you plan your meals. Gracedale may also disclose medical information about you to other people who are involved in your care, such as another hospital if you need to be transferred.
- b. Payment: Gracedale and the companies we contract with to provide services and supplies for your care may use and disclose your health information to obtain payment. For example, the billing office may confirm your eligibility for payment under Medicare or Medicaid or if supplemental insurance is available. Your doctor bills your insurance for services provided to you while you are a resident of the nursing home.

Gracedale requires any contractor and/or vendor receiving resident protected health information (PHI) to follow the guidelines set out in the HIPAA Addendum attached to their Business Associate Agreement. A Business Associate must receive health information about our residents in order to perform their job. For example, the pharmacy must know your medications in order to provide them to the facility.

- c. Healthcare Operations (Nursing Home Operations): We want to make sure that all residents receive quality care. For example, we may use medical information to review our services and to evaluate the performance of our staff. Gracedale partners with the Northampton County Community College to provide nursing students with training. We also have many volunteers who give their time to helping our residents.

PART II – OTHER PERMITTED USES AND DISCLOSURES - MADE WITH YOUR CONSENT, AUTHORIZATION OR OPPORTUNITY TO OBJECT

You will be asked at admission to sign a consent form allowing Gracedale to use and disclose your protected health information for treatment, payment and health care operations. Gracedale Nursing Home will use or disclose your protected health information only as described in the current Notice of Privacy practices. Your protected health information may be used and disclosed by your physician, our office staff and others within our organization that are involved in your care and treatment for the purpose of providing health care services to you. Your protected health information may also be used and disclosed to pay your health care bills and to support the business operations of Gracedale Nursing Home.

The following are examples of the types of uses and disclosures of your protected health information that Gracedale is permitted to make once you have signed our consent form. Disclosure of your protected health information to anyone other than your appointed personal representative will be based on providing the minimum necessary information to satisfy the requested information.

We have instructed our staff and posted notice to the public that Gracedale policy does not allow pictures to be taken of our residents without their consent. This consent form is available from the nursing supervisors' office on the second floor.

- g. Appointments: We may use or disclose health information to make or confirm an appointment for medical care or services.

These law enforcement purposes include (1) legal processes, (2) limited information requests for identification and location purposes, (3) information pertaining to victims of a crime, (4) suspicion that death has occurred as a result of criminal conduct, (5) in the event that a crime occurs on the premises of the facility and (6) medical emergency (not on the facility premises) and it is likely that a crime has occurred.

- q. Workers Compensation: If a Gracedale employee is injured while providing care to you, we may release medical information about you if it is pertinent to the case.

PART III – AUTHORIZATION

If you want to release information to an outside party use the Authorization form available at the nursing station desk or the Medical Records Department. Any authorization to release PHI must be signed by the resident or the authorized personal representative.

Gracedale policy requires that we have a copy of any legal document authorizing someone else to act on your behalf in our facility records. For example, a Power of Attorney under certain circumstances will authorize someone else to act on your behalf.

PART IV – YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING YOUR HEALTH INFORMATION

- a. Right to Request Restrictions: You may ask us to limit the way we use or disclose your health information as described in this Notice. Gracedale will agree to a request that your protected health information is not disclosed to a health plan if the purpose for the disclosure is not related to treatment, and the health care services to which the request applies have been paid for out-of-pocket in full. Any requests for restricted uses or disclosures of patient protected health information relating to treatment, payment or health care operations will not be honored. To request restrictions or limitations on medical information disclosed, see the Administrator for the Request Form.
- b. Right to Request Communication in a Special or Alternate Manner: You may ask Gracedale staff to contact you in a special way.
